

Coming Sunday, November 20

25 Years After Dallas

A woman who helped plan the Dallas leg of President John F. Kennedy's fatal journey looks back to November 22, 1963. In The Washington Post Magazine.

Coming Friday, November 25

Weekend on Skis

The Weekend section's Larry Fox seeks out skiing opportunities close to home and comes up with 2½ dozen slopes, all within a half-day's drive of Washington.

Advertisers: Please contact your Post sales representative or call Gloria Pierce at 202/334-6938. Deadline is Tuesday, November 22.

Starts Sunday, November 27

Gifts to Go

The Travel section introduces a four-week gift guide series with a roundup of travel gadgets and gizmos, pouches and purses priced from $3.50 to $200.

In succeeding weeks, the best in beautiful books, ready-do-go fashions and new and unusual guidebooks will be presented.

Coming Sunday, December 4

Book World's Christmas Issue

The section's major reviews focus on some of the year's best gift books.

Features include: An essay on the books Martin Luther King read by King biographer David J. Garrow. Humphrey Carpenter on the best Christmas books for children. A 1988 retrospective by Pulitzer Prize-winning book critic Jonathan Yardley. And the favorite books of celebrities.

Book World calls on experts in many fields to help you choose from among the best books in the graphic arts, American art, European art, architecture, interior design, history, nature, travel, photography, film, jazz, Judaica and Australia.

The 1988 Washington Best Sellers List and a very special Book Bag contest complete the package.

Advertisers: Please call Glen Fortinberry Jr. at 202/334-6254. Deadline is Friday, Nov. 25.